

October 11 draft

The winter intersession proposals in this October 11, 2021 draft are “drafty drafts” that probably will be fine-tuned some more before the October 20, 2021 Senate meeting. Use them to get the conceptual idea of what’s being proposed. Winter intersession is 6 weeks long. Summer session is 8 weeks long. Fall and Spring semesters are 16 weeks long. This October 11 draft includes a Proposal 1b.

Proposal 1’s winter intersession has three weeks in December and three weeks in January. Fall semester starts first full week of August (Aug 6). Fall semester finals end in Thanksgiving week (not before)—semesters have to be 16 weeks long. Starts final exams the Thursday or Friday before Thanksgiving week. Intersession begins first full week of December. There is a one-week break between Christmas and New Year’s for the hard closure. Spring semester begins two weeks later than current schedule.

Proposal 1b is like Proposal 1 but starts one week earlier than Proposal 1 (July 30), so that finals end in the week before Thanksgiving week. Intersession begins the Monday after Thanksgiving. The intersession has four weeks in December and two weeks in January. There is a one-week break between Christmas and New Year’s for the hard closure. Spring semester begins one week later than current schedule.

Proposal 2’s winter intersession starts first week of January (January 3). Spring semester starts last full week of February (Feb 18) and ends in mid-June.

For all draft proposals, we need to double-check that there are 175 instructional days (remember that Saturdays count and most of the start dates given above are the Saturday before the usual Monday-Friday work week).
