I am currently pregnant with twins, having housing trouble and bill trouble as is. Unemployed, not able to find a job that I can work from home since I have been told not to be on my feet since I also suffer from LUPUS. I am just trying to save up as much as possible for this since I am also single and father of the children is also unemployed. It would be beneficial to get the refunds. I have attached pictures of my most recent ultrasound. Had a hard time getting pictures of baby 2!
